EDITORIAL.

Last evening the editor went to Lincoln where he will attend the meeting of the Nebraska Press Association for a day and then stop at York and spend a day with his father and mother. Much of the copy for this issue was prepared before he left but the efforts of the office force were put forth to the limit to get the paper out and get all the news possible. Any mistakes should be overlooked by our readers.

It is uncertain just what relation the North Platte Volunteer Fire Department bears to the various organizations of this city but it is certain that somewhere along the lines, some one of them should undertake to outfit the boys of the department with uniforms. We have not had a serious fire for some years and it may be that we have settled back into a feeling of security that there will be no more fires. At such a time the one thing that will arouse us is a big fire. Then we will again appreciate the fire boys and take some interest in them. We cannot reasonably expect the firemen to go into their own pockets for the money with which to buy uniforms. A nifty department on public occasions would give the citizens confidence in the work of the firemen and lead the visitors to believe that we appreciate their efforts. Perhaps the Chamber of Commerce or the City Council or some other organization will get the idea and supply the department with the personal equipment needed.

HUMAN NATURE STORY.

It is told that in one of the counties of Nebraska a man without relatives died and his property after all claims were paid, was turned over to the state. However the judge had forgotten to include an item of $150 for a head stone for the man's grave. The amount turned over to the state was $3,457.64. A bill was introduced into the legislature appropriating $150 to pay for the headstone but the amount was promptly cut down to $100 on a plea of economy.

then why make them take it? Why cling to the old idea that a medicine must be unpleasant in order to be good?
